Significant Accounting Practices

Organization

Sunset Financial Services, Inc. (the Company) is a full-service brokerage firm offering a wide range of financial products. The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Kansas City Life Insurance Company (Kansas City Life). The Company is registered as a broker/dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. The sales force of the Company consists primarily of agents of Kansas City Life and Sunset Life Insurance Company of America (Sunset Life), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Kansas City Life.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reported period. Actual results could differ from such estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid instruments purchased with original maturity of 3 months or less to be cash equivalents.

Securities Transactions

Securities transactions and the related commission revenues and expenses are recorded on a trade date basis.

Income Taxes

The Company files a consolidated tax return with certain non-insurance affiliates of its parent, Kansas City Life. Income taxes are calculated as if the Company filed on a separate return basis.

No deferred income taxes have been provided as there are no differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases.

Agreement with Clearing Broker

The Company acts as an introducing broker/dealer and clears all general securities transactions with and for customers on a fully disclosed basis with Correspondent Services Corporation, a clearing broker. All customer funds and securities are received by the clearing broker which carries the customer accounts and maintains the records of customer transactions pursuant to the requirements of rules 17a-3 and 17a-4 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. For these services, the Company will pay clearing charges as set forth in the agreement between the Company and the clearing broker. The Company is contingently liable to the clearing broker for any losses incurred which may result from the clearing of customer transactions for the Company.

SUNSET FINANCIAL SERVICES, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2002, Company had net capital of $231,000, which was $181,000 in excess of its required net capital of $50,000. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital is 2.84 to 1.

Related Party Transactions

Pursuant to terms of an agreement, Kansas City Life furnish certain fixed assets and administrative services to the Company. The administrative fees for providing such items, as determined by Kansas City Life, amounted to $965,000 ($1,026,000 - 2001).

The Company executed brokerage transactions for Kansas City Life and Sunset Life and recorded brokerage commissions related to these transactions, as identified in the Statement of Operations. Accounts receivable at December 31, 2002 and 2001 included receivables from affiliates of $13,100 and $14,600, respectively.

Contingencies

In November 2000, the Company was named as a codefendant, with numerous other defendants, in a lawsuit filed by a client of a former representative alleging conversion of the client's funds. The amount alleged to have been converted is approximately $400,000. The Company has prevailed in its motion for summary judgment. The plaintiff is expected to appeal.

In September 2001, the Company was named as a codefendant, with numerous other defendants, in a lawsuit filed by several clients of two former representatives. The lawsuit alleges that the former representatives participated in sales of offshore annuity products which were unsuitable to the clients' needs. The total amount of damages is approximately $500,000. The case is to be consolidated with a related case. The parties will then meet to schedule discovery.

In October 2001, the Company was named as a defendant, along with a former representative and several other defendants, in a lawsuit filed by a client alleging conversion of the client's funds by the representative. Actual amount of damages is in excess of $85,000. The case is still in discovery.

SUNSET FINANCIAL SERVICES, INC.

In October 2001, the Company was named as a codefendant, with a former representative, in a lawsuit alleging fraud and breach of fiduciary duty. The Company's Motion to Compel Arbitration, as provided in the new account form, was denied. The Company has appealed the decision.

In March 2002, the Company was named a defendant, with a former representative, in a lawsuit alleging breach of securities laws and failure to supervise. Actual amount of fine is unspecified. Progress has been made to move the case from court to an administrative proceeding. Settlement discussions are pending.

In June 2002, the Company was named a defendant with one of its representatives in an arbitration proceeding. The Complainant alleges unsuitable sales of mutual funds and improper supervision. The amount of damages claimed is $115,000. Hearing has been set for July 2003.

In July 2002, the Company was named a defendant, with several other defendants in a lawsuit by a client alleging securities fraud by former representatives of the company. The amount of damages requested is unstated, but is at least $250,000. The Company and its parent have settled the case for $10,000, pending a court determination of good faith settlement.

In January 2003, the Company was named as a defendant, with its parent, two active representatives and an unrelated insurance company as codefendants, in a lawsuit filed by a former client. The plaintiff alleges deceptive trade practices and fraud in the sale of securities. The Company and its codefendants will file a motion to arbitrate the claim.

It is not reasonably possible at this time to make any conclusion as to the outcome of active litigations, but based on information currently available management does not consider it likely that any of the active litigations will result in a material impact to the Company's net capital.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

The Board of Directors
Sunset Financial Services, Inc.:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Sunset Financial Services, Inc. (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons.
2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
3. Complying with the requirement for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Directors
Sunset Financial Services, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Sunset Financial Services, Inc. (the Company) as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the related statements of operations, stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Sunset Financial Services, Inc. as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I and II is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.
